Our speaker is Jamie Hess, a fellow Squire. He will be providing us with some thoughts on how we, as consumers, can take advantage of the recent changes in energy costs to both save money and reduce our carbon emissions, through the use of energy efficiency and renewable energy.

Jamie is chairman of New London's municipal Energy Committee, whose mission is to help the Town and its residents save energy, save money and reduce carbon emissions. He also serves on the Board of Directors of the Community Power Coalition of New Hampshire, a nonprofit representing more than 20 percent of New Hampshire's electric ratepayers.

Finally, Jamie is an expert Nordic skater and is largely responsible for its growing popularity of the sport in the Upper Valley.
