ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE: FRIEND OR FOE?

Presented by Morris Edwards

Artificial Intelligence (AI) promises to revolutionize the way we live and work - but will it be for good or ill? Google's CEO believes AI is the "most important transformative technology of our lifetimes, maybe in all of human history." Famed cosmologist Stephen Hawking, however, warned that AI could spell the end of the human race with super-smart machines ruling over people. Many worry that AI-based automation will replace legions of blue-and white-collar jobs, while others are concerned about privacy issues arising from the vast amounts of personal data consumed by AI. On the other hand, proponents predict AI will transform every industry and add $16 trillion to global GDP by 2030. In his presentation, Morris will weigh the promise and peril of AI, including its strategic importance to China and the U.S.
